UN Bombers Pounding Red Power Plants

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Allied fighter bombers heaped new destruction on Communist hydro-electric plants in North Korea last night. Targets included two big generating stations which previously had been spared.

The Air Force said an American Sabrejet pilot shot down one Communist MIG-15 today high over North Korea. The kill was credited to Capt. John R. Spaulding of Downers Grove, Ill. Other Allied planes poured bombs and rockets on Red front-line positions and supply areas.

U. N. infantrymen drove two Chinese battalions off two hills on the Western Front Thursday, at times using bayonets and flame throwers to rout the Reds from their bunkers.

A Fifth Air Force spokesman called the 150-plane raid on the Communists' North Korean power network a mopping up operation. The number of planes involved and damage reported by returning pilots were impressive.

Walk Out Again

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—Allied truce negotiators today walked out on the protesting Communists for the third time in a month.

Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr., declared a three-day recess and marched out of the armistice tent at Panmunjom while an angry Communist delegation loudly demanded another meeting tomorrow.

Harrison said North Korean Gen. Nam Il, head of the Communist truce team, had "great difficulty controlling himself" at the walk-out.

Laughing At Nam

A U. N. spokesman said Nam's voice "was approaching a strident scream."

Harrison once got to the tent flap when Nam called "please come back. We have something to say."

The U. S. general said he resumed his seat and consented reluctantly "well, once more."

But Nam merely repeated his demand for a session tomorrow.

As soon as Nam's statement was translated, Harrison and the four other Allied negotiators marched out of the tent.

"I got the impression that some of the North Korean attaches were laughing at Nam," Harrison told newsmen.

Borough police Thursday completed a survey of yards and vacant lots in Gettysburg, and as a result, 75 property owners will receive notices within the next few days to get the weeds and grass cut on these properties.

They have ten days after receipt of the notices, Burgess William G. Weaver said, to get the cutting done themselves. If not done by that time, the borough highway department will do the work and charge the cost against the property owners.

WATER BATTLE HELPS MANY TO BEAT THE HEAT

A demonstration of the new Mack pumper and testing of water hydrants by the local fire company Thursday evening ended in a "glorious" water battle and soaking for everyone.

Lincoln Square was well filled for the planned test and water battle and with the thermometer soaring high in the nineties not only the firemen but practically all the spectators "got into the act."

The Mack pumper and the firemen got underway rather quietly at about 7:30 o'clock with the firemen putting up four streams of water to form a huge arch over the square. The late evening sun caught the swirling water and provided a perfect rainbow.

Beauty however soon disappeared (Please Turn to Page 3)

The nomination speech outlining the qualifications of Judge Sheely as an attorney, judge and potential president of the state bar association was made by Attorney Richard A. Brown, Gettysburg.

BIGLERVILLE GRADE SCHOOL IS APPROVED

Biglerville area elementary school children, some 60 of whom have been going to school in a two-room frame portable building that was set up as a temporary measure nearly ten years ago, are expected to have a new eight-classroom schoolhouse in 1953.

Approval of construction of the new school was given Wednesday evening by the Upper Adams Joint School system, and by the Adams County School Board at its meeting in the Court House Thursday night. The county board must give its O.K. to all school building plans in the county before they can be sent to the state Department of Public Instruction for Pennsylvania's approval or disapproval.

L. V. Stock, supervising principal of the Upper Adams jointure, and David Houck, business manager of the jointure, were in Harrisburg today to expedite consideration by the state department.

The Upper Adams system hopes to be able to complete the various legal and other requirements for the structure by August in order that actual construction can begin late this summer or early fall with the expectation that the structure will be ready for use when school opens in September, 1953.

Increased Enrollments

Part of proposed plans being considered by the joint school system as a result of surveys which indicate vastly increased enrollments in the elementary grades over the next six years, the new building will replace the present four-classroom and auditorium "community center" building, which has been operated as an elementary school for a number of years, and will replace the "temporary" frame structure beside the "community center" structure.

The "portable" building began its existence during World War II when it was impossible to obtain building materials, to house high school students until additions could be made to the high school structure in Biglerville.

When the temporary structure was replaced by additional high school construction, the enrollment of the elementary school had grown to such an extent that the "portable" classrooms had to be moved across the street from the high school to the elementary school and connected with the heating system there.

Will Have Cafeteria

The new structure will replace both buildings—with a total of six classrooms, and provide two additional classrooms for the scheduled expansion brought about by a rapidly increasing population of children in the area.

In addition to the eight classrooms the new structure will also contain a cafeteria, replacing the present cafeteria arrangement in the "community center" building in which the kitchen equipment is on the back of the stage and the auditorium itself used for the tables.

The new school will be located on the same side of the street as the high school, according to present plans, on school property, and the cafeteria will serve both the high school and grade school children. At present high school children must cross the street to eat.

In addition to the eight classrooms and cafeteria the building is also scheduled to have a utility room and office.

County School Directors Give Salary Boosts; Slaybaugh Gets $750, Raffensperger $1,500

Perspiring Adams County school directors in a two-hour special session Thursday evening in the Court House gave County Superintendent of Schools J. Floyd Slaybaugh half of the $1,500 salary increase he had asked but voted his assistant, Charles I. Raffensperger, a $1,500 pay boost in a meeting prolonged by parliamentary tangles.

On a roll call vote, the directors turned down a $1,500 raise for Superintendent Slaybaugh by a count of 44 to 36 but more than an hour later, just before adjournment, voted through a motion on a show of hands that raised his salary $750 a year, effective July 1.

Superintendent Slaybaugh's salary after July 1 will be $7,250 per year. He now receives $6,500.

Other Salaries Raised

Without a dissenting vote, the convention voted Mrs. Thalia Clapper, the secretary in the county school office, a $500 salary increase. She is now receiving $2,180, it was announced.

On a show of hands, the directors approved a $200 salary raise for Dr. George Stauffer, supervisor of special education who is expected to return this summer from a military leave of absence. The new salary for that office will be $5,200.

The roll call vote refusing Mr. Slaybaugh the $1,500 pay raise came after he had told the convention: "My wish and desire is to retire in July, 1953, provided you give me sufficient salary to compensate me for the year of my term that I would be sacrificing."

Reminded Of Promise In '50

Mr. Slaybaugh has two years to serve in his present term but said that he will reach the "62-year retirement goal line" within the next year and wishes to retire next July 1. He attached the condition of the $1,500 pay raise to that promise Thursday evening. Directors today were uncertain about the present status of his retirement promise.

One director took the floor to say that the superintendent had used the same words to promise retirement in 1953 when he was re-elected superintendent in 1950.

The superintendent replied: "I'm asking the directors to give me a little boost in salary so that I can retire next year" without sacrificing salary considerations. "I feel that since 1947 I've been your leader and formed seven fine jointures that have brought county districts bonus appropriations from the state. Teachers have gotten salary increments in the last two years and judges are getting theirs. They seem to know how to get them better than we do."

Wills Offers Resolution

Mr. Slaybaugh had explained that the $1,500 raises asked for him and Raffensperger would bring them to the new level of minimum salaries set by legislative action last year for county superintendents and their assistants. Convention approval was necessary, he said, for incumbents to get the higher minimums which would automatically be in force for any new superintendent selected after July 1.

The salary matter came before the convention in a prepared resolution read by C. A. Wills, president of the Fairfield Joint School System. The resolution called for $1,500 salary increases for both Slaybaugh and Raffensperger. Wills moved adoption of the resolution; it was seconded but from there on Convention President Luther M. Lady had rough going. At adjournment he advised the convention to select a parliamentary next time to handle such problems as faced him throughout the meeting.

One director asked if the salaries should not be considered separately and another asked for more facts. Slaybaugh took the floor to explain that salary increases voted now would be deducted from state appropriations to this county but with a new administration the state would be paying all of the superintendents' salaries.

Wanted Secret Ballot

The directors decided to vote separately on the salary raises after some discussion during which a director asked if the proposed salaries were in addition to expense accounts. Mr. Slaybaugh replied that he and his assistant are reimbursed for actual expenses in their work.

Slaybaugh also was asked what his retirement pay would be. He answered that he did not have figures from Harrisburg but expected it would be "about one-third of the average salary for the last five years of my service."

One director called for a secret ballot but President Lady ruled the roll call method was provided by law and the convention had no choice in that matter. Another director wanted to know if some other amount could not be considered in place of the $1,500 sum (Please Turn to Page 2)

Adams County Clerk of Courts Mrs. Howard W. Sheffer, today had the pleasure of issuing a marriage license to her own son and future daughter-in-law.

School Directors

but Mr. Lady ruled the motion before the convention was for a $1,500 increase and that resolution would have to be disposed of.

Turned Down 44 To 36
The roll call was conducted by Raymond Baugher, New Oxford, county board secretary, who had been elected by the directors as convention secretary.

The result announced was 44 to 36, indicating that nearly half of the approximately 150 directors of the county were absent.

Then the convention fell into confusion on whether any new vote could be taken on a salary increase for Slaybaugh in an amount other than $1,500; whether any amount other than the recommended $1,500 should be considered for Raffensperger and in what order the votes should be taken.

Much Warm Discussion
Mr. Willis rose to question the parliamentary procedure being followed. Somebody moved that the action on the Slaybaugh salary "be let stand" and there was a show of hands but directors objected and Mr. Lady decided that such a motion was unnecessary.

Finally the roll call on the original proposal or a $1,500 for Raffensperger was begun and soon took a trend that was never in doubt. The result was announced as 64 to 15 in favor of the motion.

Then a new discussion developed on what further action could or would be taken on Slaybaugh's salary. Mrs. Letha Hartman, Cumberland Twp., moved that the matter of the salary for the superintendent and his assistant be not considered any further. On a voice vote there was a division and on a show of hands, President Lady announced the motion had lost.

Stick To $500 Figure
The actions on Mrs. Clapper's salary and that of Dr. Stauffer followed swiftly without roll calls.

The typed resolution handed to Secretary Baugher by Arthur R. Buehler, Littlestown Jointure president, provided for a $300 increase for Mrs. Clapper but when Buehler read the resolution to the convention he said "500" and the convention voted on it in that form. After the convention, he told Secretary Baugher and reporters he meant what he had said and the written resolution was altered by the secretary to provide for the $500 salary boost. Mrs. Clapper had been praised by Buehler when he addressed the convention to propose her pay raise.

The $200 salary boost for Dr. Stauffer, on military leave since March 1, 1951, was proposed by Superintendent Slaybaugh as "fair, fitting and proper." It carried on a show of hands.

Official Confusion
The directors were brought back to the matter of Slaybaugh's salary. Questions brought out two official reports from Harrisburg on what effect convention action would have on the salary of any successor chosen to finish Slaybaugh's term, if he resigns next year. One report in the form of a letter said the new state-fixed minimum would automatically go in force then while an oral report through the superintendent's office said the salary fixed Thursday would stand for the next two years.

Slaybaugh's pay raise came finally on a motion by Director Melvin J. Kane of Franklin Twp., who proposed the $750 figure. Another director indicating his desire was to at least equalize the salaries of the superintendent and assistant but Kane's motion stood. Kane said it was "a question of $750, or nothing."

A question was raised as to whether a roll call vote should be taken but President Lady called for a voice vote. There was a chorus on both sides of the question and he called for a show of hands. Tellers announced the count as 40 for the motion and 15 opposed.

Some Walked Out
Some directors did not vote on the final motion and some had left the sweltering courtroom during the lengthy discussions on procedure.

Prof. Slaybaugh had called the convention to order a few minutes after 8 o'clock, read portions of the letter he had issued more than two weeks ago calling the meeting and presided while the directors elected Luther M. Lady of Butler Twp. as their presiding officer. Mr. Lady is also president of the county board of school directors. Mr. Baugher was selected secretary and Roy Heckenhuber and M. S. Hershey, the latter a county board member, were chosen as tellers. All were unopposed.

Mr. Slaybaugh told the convention 14 other counties in the state already have taken action to bring their superintendents' salary up to the $5,000 and $6,500 minimums provided by the new state law.

County Board Meets
A brief meeting of the county board of school directors followed the convention session. The board "approved" the resolutions adopted at the convention and authorized the superintendent to forward copies to Harrisburg. The board also voted to authorize the filing of a form "PIV340" at Harrisburg asking state approval of plans for an 8-room elementary addition at Biglerville. The board will meet next on the fourth Monday of July.

The county superintendent's letter calling the county convention promised the directors who attended $5 each and mileage.

WRONG HOUSE

Borough police were called to a Steinwehr Ave. address at 2 o'clock this morning when an excited voice said: "Someone's trying to break into the house." The police report, after investigating the summons, revealed a laconic "a drunk was at the wrong house."

A single by Roth, double by Kehl and a wild pitch produced a run for the winners in the second inning. The final tally came in the fourth on walks to Roth and Greiner and a single by Dorn.

The Moose scored in every inning, including an eight-run third frame, to top the Elks in the second game 18-9. Dreas and Mountain led their respective teams with three hits apiece.

Interstate

By The Associated Press

The Wilmington Blue Rocks registered strong distaste for the third position in the Interstate Baseball League standings and took just one game to lift themselves back into second.

The Blue Rocks were dropped to third Wednesday night—the first time since early May they had been lower than second. Last night the Blue Rocks opened their game against last-place Sunbury with a three-run first inning, followed with four more in the third and went on to win, 9-3, on 15 hits including four doubles and a triple.

The victory put Wilmington a game behind Hagerstown and a half game ahead of the Lancaster Red Roses who dropped back into third when they absorbed a 6-1 lacing at the hands of York. Allentown, in fourth, further tightened up the race by blanking the leading Hagerstown Braves, 6-0. The night's play left just two games separating the first and fourth place clubs.

In the fourth game of the evening the Harrisburg Senators broke into the win column by taking one from Salisbury, 8-3.

Toporcer pitched the first ball straight to Joe McCarthy, retired New York Yankees manager. Then he turned to the crowd and said: "Thanks so much for coming. It's great to be back in Buffalo."

The purse, which also included 25 per cent of concession receipts and radio rights "was expected to run about $12."

12 ALL-STAR ASSIGNMENTS SEEM SETTLED

CHICAGO (AP) — Five American and seven National League starting assignments for the All Star Game in Philadelphia July 8 appeared settled as the nation wide poll of baseball fans drew to a close today.

The 22-day voting to name starting lineups with the exception of pitchers will end at midnight tonight.

The rival managers, Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees and Leo Durocher of the New York Giants, will select their own pitching staffs.

Fans' Votes Decide
The fans' vote will determine the other starters, who must be used at least three innings before being replaced.

According to the latest tabulations (official results of the poll will be announced Sunday), here are the American League's heavy leaders who seem to have won starting spots:

Some Races Close
Close races still rage between Cleveland's Bobby Avila and Chicago's Nellie Fox for the second base job; George Kell of Boston and Al Rosen of Cleveland for third base, and Phil Rizzuto of New York and Chico Carrasquel of Chicago for shortstop.

Carrasquel, however, is shelved for a month with a broken finger and will be unable to play even if chosen.

The National League starters line up this way:

The big ballot-battle in the National is between Al Dark of New York and Granny Hamner of Philadelphia for the shortstop call.

Scores, Thermometer High At Toledo, O.

TOLEDO, O. (AP) — The temperature and the scores were due to be lower today as a dozen of the country's top professionals romped into the second round of the $18,000 Inverness Invitational Golf Tournament.

The thermometer hit 100 in yesterday's first round the scores were high, too, despite the carding of 34 birdies and a hole in one.

Ed Porky Oliver, of Lemont, Ill., runner-up in the recent National Open, paired with Doug Ford of Harrison, N. Y., to snatch the lead with a plus-three score.

The two stars ripped seven strokes off par with a 30-35-64 performance to hand a three-down defeat to Jimmy Demaret and Jack Burke.

The couple was attended by Miss Verna Culp and Homer A. Barnes. Mrs. Culp has been sales clerk at the G. C. Murphy company store. The bridegroom has been manager of the Dean Phillips auto supply store at Indiana, Pa., for the last few months.

Mumper-Myers Nuptials: Miss Frances Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross R. Myers, 37 Howard St., became the bride of Harry Earl Mumper, son of Mrs. Edward Kimberley, 30 North Washington St., at a wedding ceremony solemnized Friday evening at 8 o'clock in St. Michael's Lutheran Church, Brice Church, Pa.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. W. Pryor Jr. Mrs. Mumper is employed in the offices of D. W. Woods Jr. and Robert P. Snyder. The bridegroom is employed at Haley's meat market.

Joe Louis Wins Boxing Crown from Braddock: Chicago, June 23 (AP) — Joe Louis, only three years ago an amateur, today ruled the heavyweight fist ranks of the world.

The 23-year-old son of an Alabama cotton picker won the championship from great-hearted James J. Braddock before a clamorous crowd of 55,000 in Comiskey Park, Tuesday night with one murderous right hand blow that struck with the speed of a rattlesnake.

That blow climaxed a spectacular fight, ending with the cut and crushed champion being counted out in the eighth round, after Louis himself had been knocked to the floor in the first round.

Louis is the youngest fighter ever to win the heavyweight title. Critics agreed that the young negro's hold on the crown won't be secure, beyond argument, until he evens the score with Schmeling.

Braddock, through his puffed and bleeding lips, declared he had no intention of retiring and hoped to meet Louis again.

1,600 Received at Firemen's Bazaar: A total of $1,600.29 was realized by the Gettysburg fire company at its annual festival which closed Saturday evening. According to D. C. Stallsmith, chairman of the committee in charge, this figure is slightly less than that of a year ago.

The festival opened on Wednesday. Music was furnished by the Blue and Gray band.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McClellan, of Fairfield, Wed 50 Years. With their children and grandchildren as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. John McClellan, of Fairfield, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home Sunday. The party dined at noon at the "Old Cashtown Inn." A wedding ceremony was re-enacted in the dining room there, with the Rev. A. W. Geigley officiating. Mr. McClellan presented his wife with a diamond ring as a golden wedding gift.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

SHINE IN USE!

The great Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes on his 90th birthday and at the very end of his long and useful career gave a brief radio talk in which this line was spoken: "For to live is to function. That is all there is in living."

There was another great character who neared the end of an active and adventurous career — Ulysses, in the famous poem by Tennyson. This is what the intrepid old man had to say:

"How dull it is to pause, to make an end,
To rust unburnished, not to shine in use!"

What a tragic picture is presented in the heap of broken-down and discarded engines, cars, and many once useful articles that are piled by the roadside in so many towns and cities. There they silently (and also sullenly) lie together, their major work in life at the end. Just rusting in the sun and rain, dull and unburnished, devoid of all shine and all use. If you work, if you get a thrill out of performing in the best manner that you know, if you shine in your face and your heart — in use, at something worth while and important — then you are meeting the will of your Maker, and in addition to this you are setting an example and making yourself an inspiration for all about you.

I have watched engineers carefully going over their big machine, polishing it so as to make its metal "shine in use." And the automobile owner who keeps his car shining and clean gets double the joy out of it. So keen, bright, and alert are some people's thoughts that you can almost imagine you see a sheen upon the mind that created them, reflecting light and gaiety.

Shine in use! The pebble by the roadside, or deep in the ground, with a diamond within its heart, does no one any good so long as it sleeps, with no one to stir it to life, and to its precious beauty. Only through the process of making that diamond useful will it shine out its glory!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Punctuality." Protected, 1952, by The George Matthew Adams Service

Just Folks

THOUGHTS OF A FISHERMAN
He watched the white clouds drifting by
And thought: "How wondrous is the sky!
How beautiful when all is fair!
How fearful when a storm is there!"

"How soothing is a cooling breeze
When it is in the mood to please!
But when it strikes on land or sea
How wild an angry wind can be!"

There, as he sat with line and rod,
Away from men, he thought of God
And wondered could it be His plan
To give both good and ill to man?

How fine, how gracious man can be
When in a gentle mood is he!
But, oh, how terrible and grim
When hate and anger master him.

"I never got a bite," he said,
"But had some better luck instead.
I sort o' straightened out my mind
And left a few grave doubts behind."

CHRIST'S NEW COMMANDMENT

Mark 12:28-34; John 13:34-35; 15:10-14

Memory Verse: A new commandment I give unto you, that you love one another; even as I have loved you.

"Behold how they love one another" reported a Roman writer after he had observed the attitude of Christians toward each other. Another pagan writer said in astonishment "They love each other without knowing each other." Something new had come into the life of a community wherever Christians were found, and it was this feature in the life of the early followers of Christ that drew the attention of the pagan world, both Greek and Roman. It also won a quick but effective victory in a society that was dying but still strongly entrenched. With love as their chief weapon the Christians went boldly forward.

The impetus for this crusade was given by Christ Himself. As was His custom He did not despise the former but gave it new life and meaning. "I come not to destroy but to fulfill," He declared. And so He imparted fresh meaning to the Ten Commandments. He summarized them under two heads: Love to God and love to man. That simplified the Decalogue. Note that He demands love with "all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength." He gave interpretation and emphasis not only by work but by a completely dedicated life. His disciples knew that already. Many more would know it after the tragedy on Calvary. By displaying the love He has commanded, and in His life had exemplified, they would be known as belonging to Him. It was to be their badge. This quiet, persistent all-out love for God and humanity.

Apply Christ's New Law

And the purpose? "That your joy may be full," He promised. So it was. So it still is for the devoted Christian. There is nothing quite so satisfying as a kind and benevolent heart, and a hand ready to serve. Their pagan neighbors could not understand those strange people who called themselves Christians. They were pelted with stones, put into prison, thrown to wild beasts, and seemed to enjoy it all. They sang hymns of joy, and prayed for their enemies. Men, even in our day, catch the spirit of Christ's new commandment and experience the gladness derived from observing it. There are modern martyrs. It is the aim and effort that indicate our attitude towards this new law of love. Dr. James Moffatt in his "Love in the New Testament" says this: "The love of God, like His holiness, is revealed not in His being but in His purpose, in attitude and action towards men—it is what God does that reveals what He is." God did the utmost when He gave us Himself in the person of His Son, the Christ. That means for Christians of any day that love must be active and energetic. Like faith, love without good deeds is dead. A benevolent attitude is not enough.

The disturbing condition of the present day world is constantly in mind. What can be done to carry out God's purpose for His people? Apply Christ's new law in all situations which are not what His Father would have them be. That is difficult but not impossible. A highway towards peace and well being can be built. But rough places must be made smooth by (Continued on Page 6)

Life IS LIKE A LADDER

Perhaps you've never thought of it quite this way. But life is like a ladder. Each careful step takes us higher and higher. And every serious mistake means a fall.

We help our children up those first few rungs. We steady the ladder, we help them to gain a firm footing, we show them how to climb higher.

But, then, the day comes when our youngsters are on their own. Mother and Dad can only watch and hope. They cannot guide each step . . . nor can they prevent a fall.

Wise parents equip their children with a religious faith that can go with them up life's ladder. Then, when Mother and Dad can no longer guide their footsteps, they will know the way alone. And should they falter—as most of us do—they will have within them the power to take a firm hold, and go on, higher and higher.

The Church teaches all men to climb! It prepares our children to climb alone!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.

300 DEFIANT FELONS END PRISON STRIKE

EDDYVILLE, Ky. (P)—Three hundred defiant prisoners, advised by a chaplain not "to die in vain," sullenly ended a one-day rebellion at the state prison last night.

The risk of dying was there: state police troopers and prison guards were poised to attack.

The prisoners surrendered unconditionally and promptly at 7:15 p. m. (EST), a deadline fixed by Dr. W. E. Watson, state director of corrections, and Warden Jess Buchanan.

Released Guard

Thus the Commonwealth of Kentucky put down the latest of a series of prison uprisings which have plagued several states in recent months.

Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby backed his warden with a threat to call out "the whole national guard" if necessary.

When the unruly felons finally capitulated, and released a guard held hostage during eight hours of rioting, eight prisoners had been wounded by gunfire, and the prison machine shop wrecked.

Two guards were taken hostage but quickly released, one of them slightly hurt by a blow on the head.

Fifty state policemen rushed into this Western Kentucky town of 1,840 residents when the mutiny began.

In their opening negotiations with prison authorities, the rebels submitted a list of seven demands together with a request for the dismissal of Deputy Warden Walter Stephens and Earl Henderson, a dining room steward.

clearing away much of the rubbish we have thrown around. Saint Paul's hymn of love (1st Corinthians, 13) tells eloquently what not to do and what to do to make the law of love effective. Self-seeking, jealousy, boasting and the like are ruled out. Kindness, patience and joy in what is right are commended. Altruism is a first-cousin-word to love. It means a wholehearted-devotion to the welfare of others. It is rooted in love and is an application of it in a practical way. More of altruism and less of national self-interest would resolve many of the frictions among peoples.

These are days of testing for individuals and nations. Faith, hope and love will abide and eventually prevail. The way may be long and the going difficult but the encouraging word from Jesus is "You are my friends if you do what I command you."

Funeral Procession Hit By Truck; 10 Hurt

LEWISTOWN, Pa. (P)—A milk truck crashed into a funeral procession of a hearse and three automobiles at a road intersection in nearby Reedsville late yesterday, injuring ten persons, one critically.

State Policeman Andrew Royko, of Lewistown, said Mrs. Miriam Confer, 54, Spring Mills R. 1, suffered a possible fractured skull when the car her husband was driving in the procession was demolished by the impact.

C. L. Laub, 44, Lewistown R. 1, driver of the milk truck, told state police he was driving down a hill at 22 miles an hour when the truck veered to one side and struck the cars in the funeral procession which had stopped at the intersection. He suffered minor head injuries.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (P)—Farm organizations around Pennsylvania have opened a campaign to raise $37,500 to obtain equipment and personnel for a proposed livestock Pennsylvania State College.

The money will be used to match a similar grant provided by the 1952 legislature on the condition that the farm organizations contribute $37,500. The assembly however appropriated an additional straight $100,000.

House Ceiling On Military In Danger

WASHINGTON (P)—The 46-billion-dollar ceiling built by the House over military spending looks as if it may be torn down by the Senate.

A Senate defense appropriations subcommittee agreed informally Wednesday to eliminate a House-voted amendment which would freeze spending for next year. President Truman said the amendment would wreck the military buildup.

Military officials requested 52 billion dollars for the year beginning July 1, and the House authorized $46,200,000,000.

But the rider, sponsored by Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va.), would mean the three services could spend only a total of 46 billion dollars from this amount plus funds carried over from past appropriations.

"Most-Wanted" of Them All!

It will probably occasion no surprise on your part to be told that the Cadillac car is the most wanted and sought-after automobile on the American highways.

But you might be surprised to learn how widespread the desire to own this great motor car has become during recent years.

Statistics indicate, for instance, that there are more than twenty million motorists in America who would like to call a Cadillac their own. And were the whole of the world's motorists to be considered, this number would grow well-nigh beyond comprehension.

There is reason to believe, in fact, that Cadillac may be wanted by more people than any other product manufactured in America today. It might well be called the great desideratum of the American people.

Naturally, a motor car has to offer many wonderful things in order to occupy such a unique position in the hopes and aspirations of so many persons.

It has to offer great and distinguishing beauty... luxurious comfort... brilliant, masterful performance... and wonderful prestige.

And, of course, in order to have become the logical ambition of so many millions, it would have to be practical to own, as well as wonderful to drive. And so, it would also have to offer—extraordinary economy!

If this sounds like the description of the car that you, yourself, would like to own and drive, then come in and see us—soon.

Perhaps the time has come for you to join the hundreds of thousands of motorists who have stopped wanting a Cadillac—and started enjoying one!

We'd be happy to see you any time.

56 Register For Summer Program

Fifty-six children have been registered for the morning sessions of the summer recreation program, which opened on Monday morning. During the first week active games and quiet games were played. The children learned how to play kickball and softball was also played. In the arts and crafts period the boys and girls cut out pictures of animals and plans were made to use some of the animal designs on the paper plate plaques that are to be made next week. The children are asked to bring along paper plates, needle and wool for putting the designs on the plates. In the afternoon the older boys and girls are working with plaster of paris molds and silhouettes.

As a special event, Race Day is being planned for the near future. The playground instructors, Mrs. Kay Crouse Sentz and Clayton L. Evans, have announced that there will be competitive races of various kinds. A tennis tournament is being scheduled to begin soon.

Panel Of Judges To Test Pa. Weight Laws

PITTSBURGH (AP)—State laws setting maximum truck loads will be tested here when a panel of three judges begins hearings July 15 on an Ohio trucking firm's petition for exemption from the weight regulations.

Lattave Brothers, Inc., of Canton, O., filed the suit last April against Capt. Andrew J. Hudock of the Pennsylvania state police. Several of the firm's trucks were stopped during a state police campaign to enforce the loading law.

The firm claims only trucks registered in Pennsylvania are subject to the weight limits prescribed by the state. State laws limit the gross weights of trucks to 45,000 pounds.

CONGRESS LOG JAM ON MONEY BILLS BROKEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The log-jam of Congress' money bills finally has broken—on a multi-billion dollar scale.

And the breakup is proceeding so fast that leaders were talking with some confidence today of being able to wind up the session—and the 82nd Congress—for good a week from tomorrow.

These were some of the actions the Senate took yesterday: $45,734,750,912 military bill approved by Appropriations Committee.

Other Big Measures $3,437,895,000 compromise Treasury-Postoffice bill—passed without debate and sent to President Truman.

$1,012,547,852 State - Commerce - Justice bill—passed and sent to conference with the House.

$76,886,648 legislative bill carrying funds for Congress—Approved by Appropriations Committee.

In approving the last, the Appropriations Committee modified a House provision which would have given the lawmakers the privilege of claiming income tax exemption on all their living costs during congressional sessions.

The committee kept the tax reduction feature but limited the exemption to the first $2,400 of such costs.

Senior Boy Scouts To Visit Mt. Alto

The members of Senior Boy Scout Post No. 84 will meet on Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Littlestown High School building to go to Mt. Alto to tour the Penn State Forestry school. Following the tour the scouts will go swimming in the mountains. All Senior Scouts are invited to go.

David S. Kammerer Jr. will be the leader of the post for the summer. There will be no scout meeting this Tuesday evening but a meeting will be held the following Tuesday, July 8, 7:30 p.m. at the high school.

The definite date for the observance will be decided upon later. Plans were made to participate in the Harrisburg District visitation evangelism project in November. A new stewardship committee was appointed as follows: John Kershner, Mrs. Arthur E. Burr and Paul M. Randall. The pastor, the Rev. Harvey B. Simons, announced that Jane Barton and James Barnes from the Sunday school will attend the Methodist training camp at Newton Hamilton during junior high week.

Marine Pilot Tells Of "Biggest Thrill"

NEW HOPE, Pa. (AP)—A Marine Corps pilot just back from Korea found his greatest thrill overseas when he saw some of his own civilian clothing in a package sent to help needy Koreans.

Capt. Antonio Grenados, returning home after 82 missions in Korea, yesterday told of this "greatest thrill": "I wrote home last fall asking New Hope people to send clothes for Korean War orphans and homeless families. One day I went to Pohang to help distribute clothing sent from the United States. One parcel caught my eye.

"It was two of my old summer suits, a lot of my wife's old dresses and some of our children's clothes which my wife had sent over."

EXPLANATIONS TO BE REQUIRED OF MR. ACHESON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson is going to have to do some explaining to Congress about his reported apology to Britain for not telling that country in advance of the American bombing of North Korean power stations.

Sen. Bridges (R-NH) told the Senate yesterday the apology—if made—was "a shocking thing."

And Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.), who brought the matter to the Senate's attention by reading a London news report about it, demanded that a full text of Acheson's remarks be made available to Congress.

Knowland's Position: Knowland said if Britain wants a bigger voice in the conduct of the Korean War, he would have no objection provided the British assumed a larger share of the burden.

The London account said Acheson reportedly made the apology to about 200 members representing both Houses of Parliament. Acheson was reported to have told them American officials had intended to notify the British, but due to a mixup over whether a State or Defense Department official was to make the notification, the British were not informed.

STEPS IN SUMMER LAWN CARE

There is no "luck" in having a beautiful vigorous stand of lawn grass all summer. Attractive lawns come as rewards for observing a few simple but important rules of building and care. And on this basis it may be quite truthfully stated that every person with a plot of normal soil may grow a satisfactory turf and maintain it indefinitely.

Do not allow grass to grow tall and rank at any time. This not only needlessly wastes soil fertility, but when the plants are eventually mown, many of them will die from the operation. One of the main steps to a verdant lawn is frequent mowing from early May until late September.

As hot weather approaches, in fact, beginning in early June, the mower should be set to cut higher in order to choke out crabgrass. This unwanted invader is easily killed by shade. And if grass is cut just as frequently but left a little higher through midsummer weeks, much of the crabgrass problems will be solved.

No lawn owner should ever buy a grass-catcher. Removal of the clippings impoverishes the soil. Allow clippings to remain to build up a mulch against crabgrass and help retain soil moisture. And at the same time most of the nutrients taken from the soil to promote plant growth are thereby returned. Clippings may detract from the lawn's appearance for a few hours but soon disappear after wilting.

When grass falls beneath or near large shade trees the trouble usually results from one or both of two causes. Either the variety is not suitable for growing in the shade or the tree roots are robbing the grass of needed sustenance and moisture. In the first situation the remedy lies in sowing a seed mixture of white Poa trivialis, a shade-loving grass, composed at least 15 per cent of the total. In the second phase if the trouble cannot be overcome by extra feeding and watering, Vinca minor, English ivy or other hardy ground cover may be adopted instead of grass.

The appearance of moss usually denotes starvation. This often occurs where tree roots invade lawn areas and steal away plant foods and moisture. Certainly the widespread practice of applying lime will not correct the trouble. It is the same old difficulty discussed above—shade tree vs. lawn grass.

Many lawn failures in summer are traced directly to the vicious habit of "sprinkling." Like all other plants, grass needs moisture. But nightly sprinklings based on the silly idea of a "cooling bath" always cause more damage by attracting the tender feeder rootlets near the surface to obtain the scant offering. There they are killed or injured by the sun next day. One good soaking a week in deep water is the way to water a lawn intelligently—soaking the soil to a depth of two to five inches.

If crabgrass has not previously been troublesome, give the lawn a feeding of 6-8-6 or 5-10-5 fertilizer the first week in June—two to three pounds per 100 square feet, watered gently into the soil at once. Postpone this feeding to the first week of September if crabgrass is present.

Steep banks may be sodded almost any time over summer if the grass is kept amply watered and fed until it is vigorously established.

planted any time from late June until early September. Most experienced growers prefer fall planting for the Siberian, Japanese and other sorts, including the improved hybrids. However, with care to avoid root injuries, planting or resetting may be done almost any time from spring until fall.

Bearded irises must have good drainage. Forming a raised bed or ridge is an excellent idea. A complete fertilizer and rich loam should be worked into the soil a depth of 7 to 12 inches and the bed allowed to settle after one or more good rains before planting or replanting.

Most bloom failures with irises result from one or more of four main causes: (1) Insects; (2) Rhizome rot; (3) Excessive shade or competition from tree sprouts; (4) Crowding.

Iris thrips are increasing in many parts of the country. They can be controlled by careful spraying with rotenone or nicotine sulfate in soapy water, beginning after top growth is well started in the spring and continuing until just before the flowers open.

Iris borers apparently prefer weak, undernourished plants which grow in poorly drained beds. Feeding irises with a complete fertilizer seems to reduce borer damages. Too, gathering and burning all iris litter before winter greatly reduces the number of over-wintering eggs.

Rhizome rot often starts where borers injure the roots. Also, faulty drainage invariably leads to rhizome decay. Plant vigor pays big dividends in reducing borer ravages and rot.

The rhizome tip should remain exposed to the sun. In order to plant divisions with this much of the roots at or above the ground level requires careful lifting and rapid action to include as many of the anchoring roots as possible. Many growers do not divide down to a single rhizome but plant what is known as a "Y" of roots—the old rhizome and two new offshoots. There is more likelihood of quite normal flowering the next year when this practice is followed. As much foliage as possible should be moved along and thereafter maintained by liberal watering. If wilting follows, some of the excess leaves should be removed.

Beginners should not strive for "neatness" of iris beds during the growing season by removing any functioning leaves. The more green leaves retained in resetting the better the plant's health. Of course, removal and burning of all leaves in late fall after their work of nourishing the roots is completed reduces borer dangers and prevents excess moisture over winter around the rhizome crown.

Growers who wish to add an unusually attractive new member to their iris collection should consider the little giants—dwarf types. Seldom growing taller than six inches, iris pumila produce flowers as large as the regular tall sorts. Several of the newer hybrids belonging to the so-called dwarf group bring a second annual reward by blooming again in early fall.

The bulbous irises should not be planted (new bulbs) until late fall in order to avoid top growth before winter.

The editor invites all iris questions.

FACTS ABOUT TOMATO BLIGHT

Since 1946 late blight of tomatoes has made heavy inroads into home gardens and commercial fields throughout the East and North. Particularly are home vegetable growers alarmed at the probable destruction they do not recognize and in many of their tomato crops by a disease cases do not understand or know how to prevent or control. For such readers are offered a few helpful and informative facts about tomato late blight.

Late blight is likely to reappear in this region every year although its seriousness is somewhat influenced by local weather conditions. The disease spreads more rapidly during damp and humid periods when the temperature is relatively low. Dry weather and high temperature, on the other hand, usually curb the trouble.

There are three main sources of organisms (spores) which cause late blight of tomatoes: (1) Potato plants infected by the same disease; (2) Spores blown in by the wind from blighted tomatoes in nearby fields; and (3) Fungi already on plants when they are purchased, especially those grown farther to the south. Many agricultural authorities believe that late blight gradually moves northward from the deep South by spores blown from field to field and farm to farm as the season progresses. The trouble usually occurs in all early-crop tomato fields in the far South during winter and early spring months.

Here is how a gardener may recognize late blight. On the leaves are greenish-black water-soaked patches which enlarge rapidly to turn dark brown. Infected leaves wither. On the stems are seen brownish water-soaked spots much like those on the leaves. The fruits may be attacked at any stage of their growth. Usually the first symptoms are small water-soaked blotches that form on the upper parts of the fruit, with the infected tissues turning brown but remaining firm.

Of course, prevention measures and means of direct combat are the main facts gardeners seek. Four steps are here emphasized.

First, rotate tomatoes to clean soils each year, not allowing them to follow potatoes, peppers or eggplants. Particularly are volunteer potato plants from the early crop dangerous to the late or main crop of tomatoes. And do not grow tomatoes near potatoes.

Next, if possible, use disease-free plants. This means that plants grown at home should be grown from disinfected seed sown in sterilized bed soil. Purchased plants should have at least some guarantee against blight infections.

Third, tomatoes should be spaced so that air circulation and penetration of sunlight dry the foliage off rapidly after rains and heavy dews. Staking and pruning are helpful practices toward this end.

And last, when the County Farm Agent announces that late blight infections are appearing locally, all tomato growers should begin dusting their plants with one of the several effective fixed copper mixtures or other organic fungicides recommended and used generally in the community by commercial growers. On this point it is important to remember that the tiny causative fungus

SCIENCE BEATS MOTHER NATURE ON TEST FARM

By The Associated Press
DOYLESTOWN, Pa. — The old bees-and-the-flowers story is taking a awful kicking around at Fordhook, 500-acre trial farm of seedman David Burpee.

Mother Nature has been relegated to a back seat and her winged assistants are pesky nuisances here where X-ray, atom bombardment, chemicals and human beings are short-cutting evolution and deliberately creating monsters in the development of new plant varieties and the improvement of old ones.

All these modern tools in the hands of horticulturists produce changes in plants' cell structures, sometimes desirable but usually crippling and useless. With them, and by paying close attention to Mendelian law, new and better plants are constantly emerging. But with the careful experimentation going on, nature's buckshot and casual methods of reproduction have pretty much had to make way for progress.

Tests For Your Garden
Fordhook is a combination plant laboratory, hospital and testing ground for flowers and vegetables which, if they pass the really tough examination, will be grown in home gardens from Maine to California a few years hence. Its rolling farmland is sliced into fields which are really small wards. There are isolation blocks where plants are carefully protected from pollen-contact with other varieties. There are maternity wards and paternity wards — separated by space and woodlands. There are co-ed fields, too, but carefully chaperoned. Birds and bees are excluded from some of these by a fine-screen nylon net completely covering the fields. Others are as carefully covered to keep a hive of bees in controlled contact with growing things.

Complicated Procedure
It's all part of the search for bigger, better blossoms and fruit. Some of the new vegetables and flowers have been in-bred, cross-bred and souped up so highly that even the most determined bee finds it impossible to carry his cargo of pollen to its logical destination. Other flowers have had their shape changed so that the normal process of self-pollination is no longer physically possible. Needling chromosome counts and cross-breeding has produced "mules" — sterile plants which can only be reproduced by what the botanists call "asexual methods."

And where the old-fashioned methods of pollination are useful, the requirements of cross-breeding are so complex that the only useful bees would be ones which could pick out the designated father-plant from which to collect pollen, but could also make notes on its activities.

Rather than try to train bees to read and write, Burpee has taught literate humans to hand-pollinate. At one point during the summer, the creation of special hybrid tomato seeds requires the services of a corps of 50 workers, who carry pollen from one tomato variety to the flowers of the mother plants. And the record-keeping is as complicated as a bank's.

Some Super Results
Fordhook has in the works literally hundreds of projects. For instance, they've found a radish, tender and crisp to the core, which is the size of a plum. They are cross-breeding the big radish with small varieties in an effort to "fix" the shape so it will also be uniform and pleasing to look upon. They are fussing around with eggplants, trying for a sturdy stem so that it will hold the fruit off the ground. They are working on snapdragons, for color and for a new habit of growth — branches which grow from the base of the plant. They are also testing seeds from all over the country, watching for reactions to eastern climates. Sometimes a plant which is sensational in California — where there's another trial farm — breaks down, reverts to old type or flowers much too late for use by home-garden owners in less benign climates.

Twins Born With Same Rare Malady

READING, Pa. (AP)—St. Joseph's hospital authorities have disclosed a recent occurrence of a rare case in medical history — twins born with identical cases of erythroblastosis, a form of anemia.

Transfusions which completely supplanted the blood of the baby brothers saved their lives, authorities said Wednesday. The disease is characterized by inability of liver cells to retard bile and by an abnormal number of red blood cells.

A hospital spokesman estimated that the condition occurs in one case out of 30,000. He said the mother of the twins, Mrs. Joseph McGrann, has RH negative blood, and that the twins, when born last week, were found to possess RH positive blood.

State's Polio Rate Is Lower Than 1951

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania's 1952 polio rate is running one-third behind last year with only 20 cases reported to date.

The State Health Department said yesterday that the 20 reported so far this year are just about equal to the average for this date. The largest number of cases of infantile paralysis usually occurs in August and September.

Heading the list by counties this year is Allegheny with five cases. Delaware is next with two. No other county has reported more than a single case.

Cincinnati is the smallest city in the major leagues as far as population is concerned.

MIGHTY MIGRATION—Dutch dairy farmer Pier Tjaarda, his wife, Grietje, right, and ten children wave from the Nieuw Amsterdam on arrival in New York enroute to California.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House has approved unanimously a plan to develop a Delaware River Port at Philadelphia and Camden, N. J., including a new bridge or tunnel.

The vote Wednesday was on two bills by Rep. Walter (D-Pa.) granting congressional consent to a Pennsylvania-New Jersey agreement for a long-range modernization plan through creation of a Delaware River Port Authority.

INDUCT NEW BISHOP

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—In a setting of churchly splendor, 43-year-old Archbishop William Crittenen of Cincinnati Thursday became the fifth bishop of the Erie Diocese of the Episcopal Church.

Lay and clerical leaders marched in a colorful procession through the city to St. Paul's Cathedral where the ceremony was held.

CAPITOL HILL IS DRIED UP AT 98

WASHINGTON (AP)—It was hot. Man, it was hot! Ninety-eight, in fact. Hottest day this year. Hottest June 25 since 1875.

Just the kind of day for ice-water. Or a cold shower. So—At the height of the heat, a huge water main burst in Washington. Capitol Hill dried up—no pun intended.

The White House went dry — but President Truman's swimming pool already had been filled. He didn't have to miss his daily dip.

All told, more than 20 million gallons of water went to waste, annoying and inconveniencing practically everybody in the most densely populated part of the nation's capital.

The drought lasted over seven hours, beginning in mid-afternoon Wednesday. Nobody could find out at once what caused the break.

Socialists Lead In Netherlands Voting

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands. (AP)—Socialists nosed into the lead as The Netherlands' strongest political party for the first time in history today as parliamentary election returns gave them three new seats and a gain over 1948 voting of almost 300,000 votes.

The popular balloting Wednesday filled the 100 seats in the national Parliament's lower house. Today, provincial legislatures sitting as electoral colleges choose the 50 members of the upper chamber. On the basis of his party's triumph, Socialist Leader Dr. Willem Drees was expected to be designated again by Queen Juliana to form a new cabinet. Drees has been Premier of the out-going Labor-Catholic coalition cabinet. Another coalition cabinet was expected since none of the parties won a majority in the voting.

5 SOUTH KOREAN OFFICIALS QUIT

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—Five South Korean military and police officials resigned Thursday in the wake of Wednesday's assassination attempt on the life of President Syngman Rhee.

A government spokesman said they are Maj. Gen. Won Young Duk, appointed by Rhee to enforce martial law in this provisional capital; the head of the national police; the chief of Rhee's personal bodyguard, and two others.

EXPLORER HAS GRAMMED LIFE OF ADVENTURE

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK — With his great bulk, flowing beard and peg leg, Peter Freuchen looks like an old sea captain from the misty past who accidentally wandered into the 20th Century.
He was born in Denmark 14 years before the turn of the century and has been an explorer and whaling captain. He has spent about half his last 47 years in the Arctic.
His hefty 6 foot 5 frame strained the canvas of the chair in his modernistically furnished East Side apartment as he looked at his thick leather-cased peg leg.
"I didn't mind so much," he smiled. "My humor wasn't in the left leg."
Lost His Wife And A Leg
That was in 1925 and a snowstorm was blowing in frigid Hudson Bay territory. He had become separated from his party after going back for supplies. He crawled under his sledge to sleep. Next morning he was snowed in—and without his snow knife.

"I didn't worry," he said. "I just went to sleep again. When I awoke there was no feeling in my leg. It took me four hours to crawl to camp."
Later he said he chopped off his own gangrenous toes and the next year the leg came off below the knee. His Eskimo wife died on that trip.
But that wasn't Freuchen's most fearsome experience in the Northland. That had come in 1918 when he fell into a crevasse in a Greenland icecap. He braced his legs against the sides to keep from dropping thousands of feet further. His companions lowered a rope.
"I never have been able to forget the fear that the rope wouldn't be long enough," he said. He thinks he will eventually die in such a crevasse.
In his fabulous career he has harpooned whales from small boats, written 24 books, acted the part of a whaling captain (easy for him) in one of them, mapped the Greenland icecaps, been a Siberian ice pilot, fought in the underground after escaping from the Nazis twice in World War II.

On Hitler's List
In 1911 he suffered frostbite to his face which made shaving difficult. He let his beard grow until forced to shave it off to prevent recognition by the Nazis during the war. For the same reason he exchanged his peg leg for an artificial foot. He was on Hitler's "shoot on sight" list. He helped smuggle Allied airmen and refugees from Denmark to Sweden.
Freuchen began his expeditions in 1906 when a youth of 20. In 1910 he went to Greenland for 10 years. Then natives used bows and arrows. He built the first homes in Thule. From 1921 until he lost his leg he was in Hudson Bay.
"I thought I couldn't travel any more," he said. "I've seen so much that I put it into plots and turned to writing."
His first novel, "Eskimo," was published in 1926. This was the one Hollywood made into a movie, three years after Freuchen came to the United States. His latest book is "The Law of Lariou," published this year. He has toured the country three times lecturing.
At present he is a correspondent for a Danish newspaper. He spends much time covering United Nations activities. He is often called in by the U. N. on Arctic problems.
Primitive Man Is Thinking
"The most exciting thing about my experiences has been seeing civilization come to the North," he said. "Before that primitive man had nothing to think about. Problems came with the white man but that has been good for the North."
Freuchen had two children by his Eskimo wife. One of them, Papaluk, is now a writer. He remarried in 1945. His young and attractive wife's name is Dagmar. She is a fashion illustrator and art teacher.
But she hasn't been able to domesticate this great Dane completely. He still spends the summer and fall in Greenland almost every year. He has fishing interests there.
And once a week he sits down to a whole steak.

OBLIGING A PETITIONER — British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden signs a lad's autograph album on his back near Muenster, Germany, where he saw British Army maneuvers.

Waddle, in a golf match in which Newman played with his right hand, his left hand being disabled. John Lippy Jr. entertained the group with a 30-minute performance of magic.
Six members attended the regular meeting of the Fairfield Chamber of Commerce held Wednesday evening. Routine business was transacted and a discussion was held regarding means for making Fairfield better known.

Full course dinners will be served on Friday and Saturday evenings, July 4 and 5, at the Firemen's Carnival. Mrs. Luther Kepner, president of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Fire Company, has revealed that help in preparing and serving the dinners is needed.
"The Lutheran World Federation" was the topic discussed at the Women's Missionary Society meeting of Zion Lutheran Church held Tuesday evening in the parish house. 1,200 delegates and guests are expected to attend the meeting of the Lutheran World Federation in Hannover, Germany, next month. Mrs. Frank Moore and Mrs. Clarence Weikert were in charge of the meeting.
Following the summer communion service of Zion Lutheran Church at 10:30 Sunday morning the baptism of children and accession of new members will take place.

Plans were made for the annual picnic of St. Mary's Catholic Church, to be held August 16 in the church grove, at a meeting held Monday evening in the church social rooms. It was decided to serve chicken and ham dinners, country style. The following committee members were present: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bowling, Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, Mrs. Frank Weikert, J. William Cool, Mr. and Mrs. John Sprinkle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weishaar, Roger Topper, Miss Bessie Topper, Harry Kane, Melvin Kane, Allen Shryock and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bushey.
Two hundred members and guests of the Fairfield Shoe Company Social Club were present at a dinner-dance held Saturday evening in the Fairfield Community Fire Company hall. A turkey dinner was served by the members of the NCCW of St. Mary's Church.
Miss Alma Wirt, Miss Patricia Wheeler, Mrs. Frank Weikert, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Sites, Gervais Eck, Paul Eck, John Eck and Francis Eck spent Wednesday fishing off Delaware Beach. They returned with a catch of 525 fish.
Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Waddle have returned from a five-day visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Musselman, Quarryville. Mr. and Mrs. Musselman accompanied them home and remained for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Waddle and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Musselman.
Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weikert included Miss Patricia Wheeler, New York City; Paul Eck, Kansas City, Missouri; Sgt. John Eck, Valley Forge, and Seaman Donald Weikert, Nor-

Would Ban Hazings From "Hell Week"

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Harlan B. Selby, of Morgantown, W. Va., national president of Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity, says college fraternities should discontinue severe initiations and hazings as part of "hell week" programs.

In an address Wednesday at a program in connection with the 100th anniversary convocation of his fraternity, Selby said initiations which send fraternity pledges through violent physical tests "are something left over from our high school type of thinking."

More than 2,000 persons are attending the convention. The convocation is in celebration of the fraternity's founding at Washington and Jefferson College in 1852.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lt. Gen. Henry S. Aurand, a native of Tamaqua, Schuylkill County, Pa., is retiring as commander of the U. S. Army, Pacific, with headquarters at Hawaii.

ADMINISTRATION IN FINAL TRY ON PRICE CONTROLS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration forces threw all their strength today behind a last-gasp effort to keep prices and wages under government control.

A committee of senators and House members was called into session behind closed doors to draft a final controls bill after the House voted, 211 to 185, to:

1. Wipe out just about all price controls at midnight next Monday.
2. End rent controls in a great many communities starting Sept. 30.

Time Short
Time was short. Unless the conferees agree on controls legislation acceptable to both the Senate and the House, and unless both houses pass the final bill, all controls expire Monday midnight. They may expire then anyway. President Truman may not sign the bill Congress sends him.

The House bill, while ending price and rent controls, would keep most wage ceilings in force.
It differs greatly from the Senate's bill, which would keep price and wage controls—as well as rent controls—in existence.

About the only area of general agreement between the Senate and the House, as expressed in their separately-passed bills, is that President Truman should try to halt the 26-day-old steel strike with a Taft-Hartley Law injunction.

Stamp News

BY SYD KRONISH

Nearly everybody, stamp collectors and non-stamp collectors alike, dreams of the day when he will discover a valuable object, win an expensive prize or inherit a fortune.

Finding an unsuspected stamp rarity in an attic, cellar or old trunk is still possible. It happened recently at Ogdensburg, N. Y.

A fabulous cover franked with a block on nine and strip of three of the 5 cent New York Postmasters' Provisional stamps of 1845 was found by an Ogdensburg business man, Willard White, in old correspondence and papers. Philatelic experts believe this cover is worth thousands of dollars. The owner has placed the discovery in the hands of Harmer, Rooke and Co., the Fifth Avenue (N. Y.) auctioneers for sale in the Fall.

Postmaster's Provisional
Postmasters' Provisionals were issued prior to the first U. S. government postage stamps. These Provisionals represent the earliest official attempt to meet the requirements of the public and showed the way to proper government adhesive stamps to expedite mail service.

Previous to the introduction of adhesive stamps, letter sheets or envelopes were marked "Paid" or "Due" either with pen and ink or handstamps of various designs. Sometimes the words alone were enough, but usually the amount of the postage and the date were added. The town postmark usually appeared, too. These varieties are numerous and are classified as stampless covers.

Postmaster's Provisionals were first issued at New York City in July, 1845. Robert H. Morris, then the Postmaster of New York, decided to put these stamps in operation for purposes of additional revenue. Morris commissioned the same firm (Rawdon, Wright and Hatch) who later engraved the first 1847 official issue.

On these provisionals was a portrait of George Washington. The die for the head of Washington on the then current bank notes was used in preparing the central portion of this stamp.

Initialed Stamps

At first Postmaster Morris decided to put his own initials, R. H. M., on each stamp. He probably tired of doing this so he got A. C. Monson, a clerk in his post office—and incidentally his brother-in-law—to initial them. Stamps with the initials M. M., Jr. (Marcianna Monson) have also been found.

The stamps used by the Postmaster at New York were sold one year later to postmasters at Albany, Boston, Washington and Philadelphia and probably elsewhere.

This block of nine discovered in Ogdensburg is the largest multiple piece of the 5 cent New York known to experts.

"It is impossible to place a definite estimate on this amazing cover, as there is no precedent," said Gordon R. Harmer of the auctioneering firm. "When we were told about it by the owner, we didn't even believe such a piece existed. And when the thing arrived, it simply left us gaping. It's in a remarkable state of preservation for a cover 105 years old or more."

The cover is addressed to "Louis Hasbrouck, Esq., Ogdensburg, N. Y." The stamps bear the magenta "ACM" initials of A. C. Monson and are hand cancelled. Postal markings on the cover are a curved red "PAID," a circular red "NEW YORK" and a manuscript "60."
